Dear Applicant,

Many thanks for your interest in the Team Leader position for our Youth Violence Intervention Programme (YVIP) in Homerton Hospital, Hackney. Redthread is well established within London’s Major Trauma Network hospitals, and our plan is to expand our work in the capital into other hospital Emergency Departments where there are high levels of young people suffering serious harm; the YVIP at Homerton will be our first service of this kind. Our work was featured recently on BBC News which gives a taster of what we do.

We are looking for an outstanding individual with strong leadership skills, proven ability to work with high risk, vulnerable young people, and the ability to form effective working relationships with a wide range of partners and agencies. The team leader will manage a youth worker and a programme coordinator.

In this application pack, you will find a job description with a person specification and the terms and conditions of the post. Please read through the person specification carefully as we will be shortlisting applications using these criteria. Make sure you tell us why you want to work for Redthread in your supporting statement.

You will find a copy of our application form and equalities monitoring form on our website at http://www.redthread.org.uk/join-the-team/ Please send your completed application form and equalities monitoring form to applications@redthread.org.uk.

We will accept applications until 10am on Monday 23 April. Interviews will be held on Friday 27 April, with a second round of interviews for successful candidates on Friday 4 May.

Kind regards,

Jenny Baker
Interim Chief Operating Officer
YOUTH VIOLENCE INTERVENTION PROGRAMME

Redthread empowers young people to thrive as they navigate the challenging transition to adulthood by integrating trauma-informed youth work into the health sector. Whether a young person has been the victim of a stabbing, is seeking support for anxiety, has suffered a sexual assault, or wants to find a new home beyond the reach of a gang, we support them to overcome the challenges they face through our dynamic youth work programmes.

Every year thousands of young people find themselves in hospital Emergency Departments as the victim of serious youth violence. Redthread’s Youth Violence Intervention Programme embeds youth workers in hospitals to intervene with these young people. The teams meet the young patients as soon as they can: in the A&E waiting room, on the ward, or even in the resuscitation bay. We believe that this moment of intense crisis, when the young person is nursing a serious injury in the daunting environment of a busy hospital, often alone, can be a catalyst for pursuing positive change – a ‘teachable moment’.

Our teams build rapport with the young people, mentor and advise them, and support them to make long-term positive plans to break away from cycles of violence and offending. Problems include exclusion from education, employment or training, a lack of stability in housing, mental health concerns, unstable relationships and reprimands due to criminal activity. Redthread capitalise on our partnerships to ensure long-term work and change is possible for each young person. The teams make well-judged referrals on their behalf, and accompany them to initial meetings to ensure transition is smooth. This work disrupts the cycle that can too easily lead to devastated communities and an exhausted healthcare and justice system. We were recently featured in a BBC News report which gives a taster of what we do.

The programme is well established at London’s four Major Trauma Centres. These hospitals care for emergency patients with the most serious injuries and each covers a quadrant of London. We’re now ready to extend our service to more hospitals so that in this city of 8.5 million people, we can work with more young people who need our support when they are in crisis.

"I need this don't I, this is an opportunity for me; to be able to work with you, any of you, could change things for me. I'm ready for that. I'm in! You don't need to ask me again - I'm 100% on board, whatever I have to do. I'm doing it."

Establishing the service at Homerton

As the Youth Violence Intervention Programme has developed in the Major Trauma Centres in London, it has become increasingly clear that in order to support young people who suffer serious harm, we need to expand our work into local Major Trauma Units/Emergency Departments.

We know that by the time a young person attends a Major Trauma Centre having been the victim of a serious violent incident, they will have attended local Emergency Departments four or five times before with lower level injuries relating to violence or exploitation. By working in Homerton, we will be able to intervene earlier in the lives of these young people, breaking the cycle of violence.

As well as addressing the consequences of serious youth violence, we also want to respond to all adversity-related injuries which may lead a young person to present at hospital. The majority of major incidents will be taken to the four Major Trauma Centres, but young people are also reachable at Homerton’s A&E when they present with a myriad of issues which Redthread youth workers are able to address. These may include child sexual exploitation, domestic and sexual violence, mental health issues and deliberate self-harm.
Team Leader Job Description

Purpose of the Post

- Establish and lead the Youth Violence Intervention Programme team at Homerton Hospital and ensure that Redthread’s model of intervention is delivered consistently and appropriately to all young people accessing the service.
- Build and maintain strong working relationships with a broad range of partners and agencies, including clinical teams, hospital staff, Redthread’s stakeholders, project partners, and voluntary and statutory agencies working with young people.
- Be part of the team at Redthread, contributing to the development of our programmes and assisting with other projects and activities as required.

Main Duties and Responsibilities

1. Work with the Assistant London YVIP Manager and Director of Programmes to establish the Redthread service at Homerton Hospital, adapting the best-practice structure and processes developed in the London Major Trauma Centre network as appropriate for the location.

2. Lead the Youth Violence Prevention Programme at Homerton Hospital overseeing the day-to-day management of the service and assisting the SMT with the on-going development of the service model to ensure that clients gain the maximum benefit from Redthread’s interventions.

3. Hold a caseload and work with the young people in a range of settings, including face-to-face and group contexts, and promote their personal, educational, health and social development through all interactions.

4. Line-manage a team of the youth worker and the programme coordinator, including regularly reviewing the youth worker’s cases and offering appropriate support. Support the team to develop and improve skills, including assessment and recording, to ensure that Redthread’s model of intervention is delivered consistently.

5. Set up and lead regular team meetings in order to share information, monitor services and foster effective and supportive team working.

6. Assist the SMT in ensuring that the working practises of the team comply with Redthread’s policies, procedures and other working documents.

7. Build and maintain strong working relationships within Homerton Hospital, ensuring that Redthread youth workers are fully embedded in the Emergency Department and are working with clinical staff to deliver a service that meets the needs of young people, including promoting the service within the hospital and attending appropriate internal meetings.
8. Assist in building and maintaining strong working relationships with Redthread stakeholders, project partners and with other agencies working with young people and to represent Redthread at external meetings as required.

9. Organise and equip the YVIP team to deliver regular training sessions for hospital staff on issues relevant to young people and youth violence.

10. Work with the Assistant London YVIP Manager to actively research and network with other organisations working with young people in the area covered by the MTC to ensure that Redthread has a good knowledge of other services and projects that may be appropriate for us to refer young people to or of interest to the young people we work with.

11. Assist the Assistant London YVIP Manager in ensuring the effective management, monitoring and delivery of all Service Level Agreements, contracts and grant agreements relating to the Homerton Hospital Youth Violence Intervention Programme, and any other Redthread projects you are involved in.

12. Work with the Business Development Manager and our research partners at Nottingham University to ensure effective participation in the research and evaluation project.

13. Work with the Director of Programmes and Impact and Evaluation Manager to continue to develop the programme’s monitoring and evaluation in order to facilitate internal reflection and learning, and to demonstrate its effectiveness to external stakeholders.

14. Work with the Director of Programmes and other YVIP Team Leaders to provide ongoing opportunities for the hospital youth work teams to share best practice and learn from each other across all hospital sites.

15. Work with the Business Development Manager, Fundraising Manager and others within Redthread, to plan, develop and fundraise for new projects and initiatives that expand or enhance service delivery.

16. Maintain a good level of knowledge of the current issues around youth violence and Child Sexual Exploitation, and with guidance and support from the Director of Programmes, develop skills to further your work with the young people and team members.

17. Actively participate in staff meetings, session evaluations, supervision/reviews and planning sessions and in Redthread’s overall development, including input on the needs of young people, ideas for new projects, and the on-going development of existing projects.

18. Assist where possible with general fundraising events and fundraising, including the maintenance and growth of the regular supporter network, and to assist in promoting the organisation’s work with young people to the wider community.
19. Assist in maintaining good working relations with Redthread’s stakeholders, project partners and with other agencies and represent Redthread at external meetings as required.

20. Encourage and enable young people to participate in all forms of decision-making and management of Redthread’s projects, with the ultimate aim of empowering them to shape the services and activities provided for them. To ensure that all young people have equality of access and that the programme promotes opportunities for all young people.

21. Assist the team in ensuring that all Redthread policies and procedures are followed, including Health and Safety, Safeguarding, Data Protection and Equal Opportunities. Report any concerns to an appropriate member of the SMT.

22. Work as a member of the Redthread team and assist as required across all the organisation’s projects, including carrying out any other duties that may be required to meet the needs of the organisation.

Safeguarding
Redthread puts safeguarding at the forefront of all its activities. The successful applicant will demonstrate their firm commitment to effective safeguarding practises and high professional standards around all safeguarding issues. An enhanced DBS check is required for this role.

Equal Opportunities
Redthread is committed to the fair treatment of its staff, potential staff or users of its services, regardless of race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, responsibilities for dependants, age, physical/mental disability or offending background. We actively promote equality of opportunity for all with the right mix of talent, skills and potential and welcome applications from a wide range of candidates, including those with criminal records.
